1 formalized process of understanding the
2 practice to the drug, correct?

3 A. Correct.

4 Q. You would agree with me that
5 concept is a "know your customer"
6 concept, correct?

7 A. It's a way of knowing your
8 customer. It is a way.

9 Q. Okay. Her fourth finding,
10 "Orders that are highlighted as 11 suspicious are all investigated. Those
12 that are cleared from suspicious status
13 are released. Those that are not are 14 canceled. At the end of each month, two 15 reports are submitted to the appropriate
16 field office of the DEA. The first
17 report includes those pended orders that 18 were cleared from suspicious status. The 19 second report reflects those orders that 20 were deemed suspicious and canceled."

21 Did you understand that that
22 was the practice through 2005 for pended
23 and suspicious orders?

24 A. Yes.

1           Q.     Did you understand though in
2     that practice, that she recommended that
3     suspicious orders be reported immediately
4     and not at the end of the month. By 5     reporting them on a monthly basis at the 6     end of the month was inconsistent with
7     the Controlled Substances Act
8     requirements.

9           MR. McDONALD: Object to the
10     form.

11           THE WITNESS: In 2005, I
12     don't recall if that was
13     inconsistent with the act.

14     BY MR. MIGLIORI:

15           Q.     She finds -- she documents
16     here the requirement, "The registrant
17     shall inform the field division office of 18     the administration in this area of 19     suspicious orders when discovered by the 20     registrant."

21                     Her recommendation she 22     writes, "While HSI has been using the 23     current reporting process for several 24     years, it is recommended consideration to

1 be given to filing the suspicious order
2 for those orders not released from
3 suspicious status to the DEA
4 immediately."

5 Do you understand that that
6 was the recommendation then, that
7 reporting them at month's end was not
8 consistent with the requirements of the 9 Controlled Substances Act?

10 A. That was her recommendation.

11 Q. Okay. Fifth finding. "When
12 an order pends as suspicious, the order
13 and the customer patterns are reviewed.
14 If it still remains suspicious, a letter
15 is sent to the customer requiring an
16 explanation of the order. A pending
17 order will not be released without a
18 return letter from the customer."

19 Will you agree with me that
20 the methodology at Schein through
21 September of 2005, and beyond, was, when 22 an order pended, that a letter was sent 23 by first class mail to the doctor or the 24 customer for further information?

1           to -- to be able to readily review
2           the orders for each of these
3           criteria.

4                       Whereas, again, the system
5           was already in existence many
6           years prior to 2008. It may not
7           have been computer -- automated,
8           but it's still -- it was able to
9           review and identify suspicious
10          orders.

11       BY MR. MIGLIORI:

12               Q.     Well, we just went
13          through -- I don't want to go through 14          them again. But we just went through 15          Buzzeo's findings in 2005, and it wasn't
16          picking up that it needed -- there needed
17          to be a new review of how to check orders
18          for patterns and frequency, not just 19          size. Do you recall that?

20               A.     Yes.

21               Q.     And one of the things this 22          new monitoring system will review is,
23          among other things, purchasing patterns.
24          That is a new way of looking at the

1 ordering -- the orders coming into
2 Schein, according to this document.

3 A. From a systematic approach.

4 Q. From a systematic approach.

5 And from any approach. That there was,
6 according to Buzzeo in 2005, no
7 independent review of just pattern in the 8 system prior to this change.

9 A. In the computer system?

10 Q. Right.

11 A. In the computer system.

12 Q. In the computer system?

13 A. In the computer system.

14 Q. The system was not picking
15 up changes in pattern or frequency in the 16 computer system.

17 A. I would agree with that.

18 Q. And this new system was 19 going to do that.

20 A. In the computer system.

21 Q. In the computer system.

22 And that computer system
23 didn't get implemented in final process
24 until October of 2009, according to your

1       says here, when -- the order is DEA and
2       board of pharmacy are notified by
3       regulatory affairs.

4               Q.       Where?

5               A.       This stuff here.

6               Q.       So under this system, this,
7       on the third page?

8               A.       On this flowchart.

9               Q.       So in 2011, when an order --
10       I'll go back to Page 2 for a second.

11       When an order is pended, because of a
12       deviation in size, frequency or pattern,
13       by this procedure the DEA isn't notified
14       immediately as of February of 2011?

15              A.       The order is -- is pended
16       here. It's not deemed to be suspicious.

17              Q.       All right. But what we saw
18       in the early documents that a suspicious
19       order is one that is a deviation in size,
20       frequency, and pattern.

21              A.       Right.

22              Q.       And that once pended, it
23       needs to be reported, as Buzzeo stated in 24       2005, it needs to be reported

1 immediately, correct?

2 MR. McDONALD: Object to the
3 form. Mischaracterizes the
4 document.

5 BY MR. MIGLIORI:

6 Q. Not -- not at the end of the 7 month, correct?

8 MR. McDONALD: Object to the
9 form. Mischaracterizes the
10 document and the testimony. That
11 is not what the document said.

12 THE WITNESS: The order is
13 pending here. That doesn't mean
14 it's suspicious. There's a whole
15 review process here, we just went 16 through.

17 BY MR. MIGLIORI:

18 Q. I'm going to -- let me give
19 you a hypothetical so we're not
20 confusing.

21 If an order is a deviation
22 in size, it is a pending order in Henry
23 Schein's system, correct?

24 A. If it's a deviation in size.

1 Q. Yes?

2 A. Yes.

3 Q. An order that is a deviation
4 in size, by definition under the CSA, is 5 suspicious, correct?

6 MR. McDONALD: Object to the
7 form.

8 THE WITNESS: Not
9 necessarily.

10 BY MR. MIGLIORI:

11 Q. All right. Well, you
12 actually had a document where you said
13 exactly that, that we just referred to 14 earlier.

15 You're saying that a
16 deviation in size is not a suspicious
17 order?

18 A. Potential, potentially.
19 Potential. It could be. That's the 20 review process that we're doing here.

21 Q. So in Schein's system, in
22 February of 2011, Schein is not reporting
23 immediately a deviation in size of order
24 from prior purchasing history to the DEA

1       upon discovery. Is that true?

2               A.       We were reporting suspicious
3       orders.

4               Our definition of a
5       suspicious order, after the review is
6       conducted and deemed to be suspicious,
7       that's when it was reported immediately.

8               Q.       So this flowchart is 9       accurate, that you would not have told
10      DEA about this until you got to this last 11      step here of it being --

12              A.       Deemed suspicious.

13              Q.       -- deemed suspicious.

14              All right. And then it
15      says, "Notes are placed in the system to 16      prevent future shipments of controlled
17      substances to this customer."

18              Where would that go, where
19      would that go into the system?

20              A.       That's a verification
21      function. I don't know where they'd put 22      that.

23              Q.       Would you know where to find
24      it if you were asked to consult on a
